WHY THIS DISCRIMINATION?

Mr. J. E. Sanders was arrested on Wednesday evening after he had fired his pistol off a number of times in the street near the Southern depot, cursed, and disturbed the peace generally. He was taken to the guardhouse in a hack by policeman McKenzie but the officials ordered him to be sent back home. After he got home he continued to disturb the peace. No word was put up for that night, but yesterday morning a bond was obtained for his appearance. We want to know how it was that he was released on Wednesday night instead of being locked up and no bond demanded until the following morning? The Mayor should have ordered him to be locked in the guardhouse for he had fired his pistol in the street and otherwise acted disorderly. Why make the point that for offences made by a man who is white and colored, have been arrested and allowed to live all night in the guardhouse? The condition of this man was dangerous and if he had furnished bond that night—which he didn't—he shouldn't have been turned loose for he was dangerous to every one. It is told that he held up several passing his store at the point of a pistol, and was raising so much disturbance that the street was blocked. He was released while still in this violent condition and no bond obtained for his appearance until the next morning. A citizen asked yesterday afternoon how much a man would have to do to be locked up. Judging from the action in regard to Mr. Sanders we found it impossible to answer that question. The record will show how Mr. Sanders entered office that night he was arrested and locked up for less offences, and this man was released and without bond. Why this discrimination?

Even the people in the coastal counties of the state are beginning to talk and preach good citizenship. Formerly held a leading place in this movement but late years the fever has cooled. Even the macadam roads, which cost over $500 per mile, have not been repaired and have been allowed to go to ruin. We suggest to the county board that they at once have all the macadam repaired, and adopt the suggestion of a permanent road law. The county hasn't enough convicts here from the state.

Instigated by the prevalent warm weather, a colony, a dozen or more, of Chesterfield left the city yesterday for ten days or two weeks some of them, for the cooling waters of sparkling Catawba springs. Hickory, N. C., Chester spring in the Columbia river.

Wonder what's become of those "gentle breezes" which were blowing our air city at all times? The Chester Lantern was valiantly boasting about the other day—Lancaster News. They are still here, but have gone into summer quarters following a rain which from the direction of Lancaster they came.

Mr. J. B. Vaughn, of Pleasant Hill township, brought in a curiosity Saturday in the way of a quinine-sage, laid by one of his quinine-sage, of course. The quinine-sage, he says, is of the regulation size, but so with the fruit, and the quinine-sage, being the size of a regulation size, and the others about half as large. The quinine-sage, which was gotten into the habit of laying himself out for good and positively refused to go any better, or worse, we are told. To Caldwell of the Chester Lantern sends these little berries to a person living along with his 30 year old collection of law fruit. We will send them over to him—at his expense, Lancaster.

Thank you, very much, for the gift, but we are afraid the bill "will" split, they were laid in Lancaster. And by the way we have a bean here, thirty and the inches long, which we intended sending brother Connor for his inspection. Lancaster's distinctive little products will pale into insignificance along side of this Chester bean.

Several of the northern papers carry "stories" the other day telling of the serious illness of Senator Tillman and one pictured him in a dying condition and said that he would probably resign from the senate. The senator is in fine health and how the yarn got started is no one knows. He will be in this county on the 10th of August and address the people at the Blenheim, please. They are trying mighty hard to get "Trotter Ben" out of the way but he is still alive and kicking.

THE SCOUT CARS ARRIVE TODAY

Will Be Met at Edgemore by Local Cars and a Smoker
Will Be Tendered There

The Columbia Record's scout cars will arrive in the city this afternoon. A pilot party of five cars from this city will meet the scout cars at Edgemore and escort them to the city. On their arrival they will be met by a smoker at the Carolina inn at 2 o'clock. Invitations have been extended to Capt. W. E. Gonzales, of the State, and A. A. Hoyt, of The Columbia Record, to attend the smoker this evening. Telegrams are being sent to the arrival of the cars from the date of the smoker having been dispatched to Columbia this morning by The Lantern.

The Lantern received a telegram this morning from the scout cars, stating that the scout cars had left that place and were making for Yorkville. A little later a telegram came from the Yorkville Herald asking them to wire date of arrival of the scout cars there and also to have them sent around by Edgemore and that the Chester pilots would meet them there via Landis, headed by President A. L. Gaston, of the Commercial Club. Messrs. Robert Gage and R. H. Haffer, the local automobile drivers, were busy making getting ready for the trip. It is planned to leave here promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon and meet the scout cars with their escorts at Edgemore. They will be brought back here as described above.

ABOUT THE SMOKE
A smoker will be given at the Carolina inn at 2 o'clock and any one desiring to attend will find in their name to Mr. C. H. Rohr, the manager, by 6:30 this afternoon. All public spirited citizens are invited to attend the smoker and take part in the reception to the newspaper men. The presence of Mr. Hoyt and Capt. Gonzales is expected.

ROUTE CHANGED—COME DIRECT FROM YORKVILLE.
At 2 o'clock a telegram was received advising that the scout cars would leave here from Yorkville and that Rock Hill was cut out. The local pilot cars left for Lowryville to meet the cars.

Advises just received state that Capt. Gonzales and Mr. Hoyt will not be present.

MR. LONG NOSE BEGINNING JOURNEY

Tells of His Morning Trip and What He Said to People

As I said, I rambled around on the Hill from 7 to 7:45 o'clock this morning. Got breakfast at the Greek restaurant on the Hill then journeyed to the Southern station. A big crowd was waiting for me. I got into the car and was told that the boys ran down the track. They appeared confident he was Mr. Long Nose. "Oh, once did I go nervous," said Mr. Long Nose, black eye and light colored hair young man slapped his hand on his back and said, "You are the mysterious Mr. Long Nose of the Chester Lantern." He had had me, he said, if you had said "Mr. Long Nose" instead of "Mr. Big Nose." I came back up to the Hill. It was in Chicago and saw a tremendous crowd standing in front of Klutz Department Store. I love a crowd, so I joined it with them. First, I saw a man with a derby on his head, and a young man with a derby on his head, and the way we pushed that young man almost took his breath. If you ask the black haired young fellow he will tell you a man with a derby on his head, the other day—Lancaster. They are still here, but have gone into summer quarters following a rain which from the direction of Lancaster they came.

MR. LONG NOSE HAS ARRIVED HERE

BEGUN HIS JOURNEY EARLY THIS MORNING

Reward to One Who First Discovers Him—Came in Last Night

Well, I, the mysterious Mr. Long Nose of The Chester Lantern am at the entrance of the city at last. I must confess to you, I have traveled to many states and been in countless cities, but your delightful city is one of the most charming and interesting I have yet seen. In fact, it appears so healthy with its great sweeping center Hill and smaller ones blending off from it, making it look like the victor as one of the best drained and most sanitary cities in America. Yes, I sure like your city, and hope you will catch me for me, anywhere, at least a week. And I know that I am talking about you, detectives of Chester, have got to move more to capture me. I am an expert at my job. I have fooled people before and I know no reason why I can't keep the people of Chester on the jump for at least a week or longer.

Wags I was here before, E. H. Caldwell and myself agreed to have a private meeting on yesterday afternoon, down under the old elm tree, at the entrance of the Springville Hill. There I journeyed at the appointed hour and lingered sometime awaiting my friends arrival. Finally, I saw leads from the Hill, as fast as my legs could convey him. Under his left arm he carried a big box. What on earth could that be I wondered to myself. Had he brought me a present of some shirts, for verily it looked like a shirt box, which contains an half dozen shirts. Let that be as it may, because the fellow reached me, and after a few pleasant words of greeting were exchanged, we got down to business. Of course, I told him how long I was going to try to evade capture and all that sort of thing, but he said, however, all that can be spoiled in one minute, by some one calling me and calling me the mysterious Mr. Long Nose of The Chester Lantern. Editor Caldwell told me under no circumstances to open the box he gave me until I got to the city. I was told that he knew this fellow that he was more mysterious, so I hastened to my room. Look under the rug and behind the pictures on the wall and saw no one hiding, to watch me. I untied the string as carefully as I could, and opened an infernal machine, and folded the paper away from the box, as delicately as I could, and a fine pound box of candy, to my horror, out leaped at least, an hundred letters. My good people please stop writing so much. This is the worst city I ever saw for writing. Why it made me cry and to pursue some of the epistles. You know I am awfully tender for her. One "Poor Old Woman" for she started crying, thought I ought to let her capture me. She had to stop her aunt and her task was certainly a difficult one. It is insulting to me to write such a letter as "W. T. wrote. Said he would divide the reward with me if I should let him land me "W. T. old fellow, you said to watch me.  Chester, S. C., July 28, 1909.

There was a bachelor apartment at one time with an Englishman, who was always talking about his 'bawh', you know, said a New York banker.
 "The first thing in the morning he said: 'I must take my bawh, you know.' Really, now, I must take my bawh—bawh, bawh!"
 "He did so much talking about his 'bawh' that I stayed one morning to see him take it—to see if it was different from the bath of the American." It was. This is what he did: First he spread a soft towel at the bottom of the bathtub, then turned on the water until it was about two inches high.
 "So as not to chill my feet, you know," he explained to me.
 Then he stood on the soft towel in the two inches of water, turned on the spray, sprang through it, leaped out and rubbed for a towel.
 He had taken his 'bawh', you know—bawh, bawh—Washington Post.

Physicians were summoned and the wound was dressed and Mr. Wilson is getting along very well.

Chester Kennedy Convicted.
 Barwell, S. C., July 29.—At 6 o'clock this morning the jury in the second trial of the case against Chester Kennedy, charged with complicity in the murder of Perry Ussery in November, 1908, returned a verdict of guilty of murder with recommendation for mercy. The defense will ask a new trial and if that is refused, will appeal from the verdict, which carries a life sentence. Kennedy, it is alleged, hired Quintman Johnson, a negro, convicted for the killing, to shoot Marvin Holland. By mistake the unskilled Ussery, who was standing by the side of Holland, watching the dismantling of a carnival company's apparatus.

NEW PASTOR INSTALLED

Rev. D. G. Phillips Installed as Pastor of Local A. R. P. Church.

A call meeting of the First Presbyterian was held yesterday morning in the A. R. P. Church, for the purpose of installing the new pastor, Dr. D. G. Phillips.

The meeting was called to order by Moderator Hon. J. F. McDonald, of Winnsboro, after which the assembly was led in prayer by Rev. R. L. Robinson.

A certificate was read showing that Dr. Phillips had hitherto been enrolled as a member of the Second Presbyterian, and upon motion being made he was duly elected to membership in First Presbyterian.

The formal call signed by all the members of the congregation was then read by Rev. Jno. A. White, and referred to committee consisting of Revs. Oliver Johnson, Jno. A. White and S. H. Lathan, who endorsed the call and reported it made out in regular form.

Rev. John A. White then preached a strong and appropriate sermon for the occasion, his text being "We are Laborers with God," impressing upon the people the solemn obligations and sacred duties they as a congregation owed to their pastor and their church.

The usual questions were then proposed and upon Dr. Phillips accepting his intention of accepting his new labors and performing his duties as a pastor, according to the dictates of his conscience, he was given an opportunity to greet the members of the congregation.

Rev. Oliver Johnson, in behalf of the congregation, then delivered an impressive address to the congregation, calling upon them to uphold and assist their pastor in his new field of work.

Rev. R. L. Robinson of Lancaster delivered a fitting charge to the congregation, upon the duties of the church members to their pastor and the things they should expect, and the things they should not expect of him, and urging the necessity of encouragement and cooperation, for upon this depended the success of his work.

The exercises were then closed by a benediction by Rev. D. G. Phillips.

A man in North Carolina who "re-acted" certain things said about him in a local paper proceeded to hunt up the editor and give him a beating. Later the injured citizen found out that the editor had not written the article in question, though of course he was responsible as editor for what went into his paper—and the pugilistic citizen was inclined to be sorry that he had, in his view, beat up the wrong man. The fortunate part of the affair is that the indignant citizen used only his fists—if he had resorted to the customary pistol his fate regrets over his mistake would have sorely availed very much.—The State.
